

HUGHES ATTACKS ADAMSON MEASURE

Addresses Audience in State Arsenal at Springfield

TERMS EXCUSES FUTILE

Nominee Asserts Measure Does Not Fix Hours at All But Regulates Wages

DEPARTS FOR MILWAUKEE

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Sept. 19.—Charles E. Hughes addressing an audience in the arsenal here tonight, renewed his attack on the administration for the passage of the Adamson law in the face of the threatened railroad strike. Mr. Hughes discussed and called "futile" reasons advanced for its passage, quoted from President Wilson's address to congress on the subject, criticized the statement of Representative Adamson that it was passed to "meet an emergency" and cited a declaration attributed to Grover Cleveland in support of the contention that the law was "a surrender to force."

"We have seen," Mr. Hughes said, "what appeared to be the consideration of immediate political expediency at the expense of public welfare."

"Mr. Adamson said, 'It is hasty legislation, I admit, to meet an emergency.' Mr. Hughes continued, 'What emergency? The emergency of force to which the administration had capitulated.'

"Senator Underwood said, 'we have not the information on which to legislate and to fix rates of wages which we are going to do and are attempting to do.'

"Contrast the action of the administration," the nominee added, "with what was said by Grover Cleveland in 1886 with respect to labor legislation: 'All legislation on the subject should be calmly and deliberately undertaken with no purpose of satisfying unreasonable demands or gaining partisan advantage. It is idle to excuse the action by the request for additional legislation with respect to the future. That legislation was not obtained. We are dealing with what was demanded and actually enacted.'

"We have an unjustifiable attempt to use public sentiment with respect to an eight-hour work-day in order to justify a bill which does not provide an eight hour work-day but relates solely to an increase in wages. We have seen the choice of what seemed to be the easier way, which escaped the necessity of a determined stand for principle. We have seen what appeared to be the consideration of immediate political expediency at the expense of public welfare."

Mr. Hughes spoke before a crowded house that frequently interrupted him to cheer and applaud. His speech tonight was his second in Springfield.

The first at the State Fair grounds this afternoon, dealt chiefly with his ideas in protection of American rights and preparedness. He also touched tonight on the protection of American rights.

"The America of which I have a vision, the America of the future is an America maintaining rights on land and sea without fear or favor throughout the world."

The audience cheered and applauded loudly.

Mr. Hughes, after declaring that "the just interests of labor are the concern of all" and asserting that he desired to see safe and wholesome conditions of work, adequate opportunities for education and recreation, reasonable hours of labor and fair wages, said in part:

"The Adamson bill is a force bill. It was legislation without inquiry, without knowledge. The demand by the administration for such legislation as the price of peace was a humiliating spectacle, deplorable abdication of moral authority."

"The excuses presented are futile. The Adamson bill does not fix hours at all. It regulates wages. Eight hour day laws are to avoid fatigue and overstrain by prohibiting employment in excess of the requirement. There is nothing of that sort in this bill."

Mr. Hughes quoted the Adamson law, showing, he said, "in plain English," that the men affected are not required to work fewer hours, but are to have ten hours pay for eight hours work, with additional pay for additional hours.

"The phrase 'eight hour day,'" the candidate continued, "is apparently used to tickle the public ear in order to establish something quite different."

"It is said for this bill that it will have a tendency to procure an eight hour day. This is extremely doubtful."

"This bill must be judged by what it provides, not by what it does not provide."

"If the asserted judgment of society inspired it, why does the act apply only to a limited number of railroad men? The obvious fact is that there was a demand by certain men for an increase in their own wages, and the administration in advance of investigation surrendered to these demands."

Pointing out that the Adamson bill itself conceded that the subject was one requiring investigation, Mr. Hughes said that if there was anything requiring careful inquiry it was a proposition affecting readjustment either of rates or of expenses of carriers, upon whose efficiency "the community depends."

"When railroads are required to expend additional millions, this burden must ultimately fall upon the public. If expenses are necessarily increased beyond what existing rates will stand, the rates must be increased."

"It must be understood that the burden of increased rates is passed on to the public. It necessarily affects a host of activities agricultural and industrial."

"Increases of wages for selected classes of men on railroads might result in restrictions on a great number of other working men not only those employed by railroads but upon those employed in industries through the country if the latter be requested to operate under increased transportation charges."

"Again, what becomes of present adjustments and business agreements relating to the men whose services are involved in this bill if wages are fixed by war in this manner?"

"What was the duty of the executive? Plainly to insist that investigation should precede action and that nothing should be yielded to force. It was stated by the executive in his address to congress that 'the matter' had been agitated for more than a year. Why then was it not investigated?"

"Time was allowed to run and then came the surrender that shocked the people throughout the land. Was the 'crisis' unforeseen? I stand for the principle of arbitration in industrial disputes. Labor, least of all, can afford to have that principle surrendered."

"It is no answer to say that the awards of arbitration are not always just. The effort should be to improve reasonable methods, not to subvert them. Great progress has been made in the direction of peaceful and reasonable settlement of labor disputes. To say that fair and prompt arbitration could not have been had in this case is to indict both the administration and the American people."

Asserting the force "can reject courts as well as arbitration, that it can dispose with any part of the orderly procedure of government which it may oppose," Mr. Hughes continued:

"When force is produced and arbitration is refused there is but one stand to take and that is to appeal to the judgment of the country to vindicate the process of reason. Had the executive, when arbitration was declined, at once directed the entire force of public opinion as he easily could, to the demand for the recognition of the principle of arbitration I have no doubt he would have won, and the nation would have been his debtor."

Mr. Hughes explained that he was not speaking of "the propriety or the advisability of fixing wages by law," but of a more fundamental question—legislation according to the facts, as opposed to legislation under pressure in the absence of inquiry. He continued:

"Within a few hours on demand of the administration congress provided a mandatory increase of wages, involving millions of dollars without any idea whether the increase was or was not justified. And this action was taken in connection with the essential instrumentality of commerce, the arteries of our commercial life."

"Contrast the action of this administration with that of Grover Cleveland in 1886, who said with respect to labor legislation: 'All legislation on this subject should be calmly and deliberately undertaken, with no purpose of satisfying unreasonable demands or gaining partisan advantage.'

STATE REPUBLICANS ADOPT PLATFORM

Hold First Roundup of Party Leaders Since
Recent Primaries

HUGHES GIVES ADDRESS

Re-Nominate Three Candidates for University Trustees
By Acclamation

PLATFORM IS ADOPTED

PEORIA, Ill., Sept. 19.—Republican leaders of Illinois assembled here today to attend the Republican state convention and to listen to Charles E. Hughes open his second speech-making campaign in the central western states. It was the first round-up of state party leaders since the recent primaries and every county in Illinois was represented.

The convention was called to order shortly after 10 o'clock by Congressman William B. McKinley, the chairman. The first business transacted was the naming of three candidates for university trustees. William L. Abbott of Chicago; Otis W. Holt of Geneseo and Mary E. Bussey of Urbana were re-nominated by acclamation. The state central committee was authorized to fill any vacancy on the ticket which may occur.

Chairman Edward C. Curtis read the report of the committee on resolutions and the convention adopted the platform submitted without discussion.

Republican Principles Essential
The republicans of Illinois, assembled in convention at Peoria, this nineteenth day of September, 1916, hereby declare their fealty to the principles of the republican party. These principles are essential to orderly economical government, and to the advancement, prosperity and contentment of our people. We favor preparedness for the protection of our home and for the economic protection of our markets.

Party United
We welcome the evidence of the Maine election that there are joined together in this campaign not only republicans and progressives who have been made in the direction of peaceful and reasonable settlement of labor disputes. To say that fair and prompt arbitration could not have been had in this case is to indict both the administration and the American people."

National Platform Approved
We approve the national republican platform adopted June 16, 1916, and pledge our hearty and earnest support to Charles Evan Hughes and Charles Warren Fairbanks.

Democratic Administration Denounced
Four years ago Governor Dunne made two issues prominent in his campaign. He charged that appropriations of $29,000,000 for the liquor were extravagant and that taxes under the republican administration were extortionate, and promised to reduce both taxation and appropriations if he were elected.

Under his administration taxes have been fifty per cent higher than under the preceding republican administration and the aggregate appropriations for the term of office have been $37,000,000,000 more than for the last four years of the republican state administration.

The governor sought from the second assembly under his administration $45,000,000 or fifty per cent more than was appropriated by the last assembly under the preceding administration.

Republican State Administration Commended
We welcome a comparison between the present democratic state administration and the last republican state administration. The last republican state administration was constructive in the advancement of the state's interests, the development of its resources, the protection of the welfare of its citizens in their various lines of industry, was efficient in its administration of state departments and institutions and businesslike and economical in its management of the state's finances.

accordance with judgment based on an examination of the facts. These processes of reason are the only alternative to tyranny.

"We can stand mistakes in policies if we are sound in method, but we cannot yield reason to the rule of force. That is the path of sure disaster. I should not take a step in that path."

Mr. Hughes left Springfield at 11 P. M., for Milwaukee. He will reach there tomorrow night and deliver six speeches enroute.

Mr. Walker at once set about gathering information.

HARD FIGHTING IN MACEDONIA

Altho there is a pause in the violent infantry fighting in the Somme region of France, due to the inclement weather, heavy battles are in progress on the eastern front in Russia, Galicia, Transylvania and Roumania and on the southern front in Macedonia.

Along the Stokhod river in Russia the Germans and Austro-Hungarians have taken the offensive against the Russians, and according to Berlin, near Zareche have crossed the river in pursuit of their retreating foe and have captured 31 officers and 2,511 men and 17 machine guns. Here four lines of Russian trenches were penetrated by the Teutonic allies, says Vienna.

In Galicia a counter-attack by the forces of the central powers along the Narayuvka river southeast of Lemberg, brought a further success to their arms and resulted in the capture of an additional 4,200 men.

In the Ludowa region of the Carpathians the Russians have gained some new positions in the fighting among the snowclad peaks.

The war chancelleries at Berlin, Sofia, and Vienna record victories for the Teutonic allies over the Roumanians in Transylvania and Dobruja. In southern Transylvania near Hatzeg, according to Berlin the invading Roumanians have been repulsed and are being pursued by the Austro-Germans, while in Dobruja the new line formed by the Russians south of the Constanza railway and running from the Black Sea to the Danube has been penetrated at some points and several villages captured.

In Macedonia hard fighting continues at various points but with no important changes in positions reported. Two counter-attacks by the Bulgarians against the Serbians were unsuccessful according to Paris while Sofia reports that attacks by Russian, French and Serbian troops on Bulgarian positions around Florina were repulsed, as likewise was an offensive west of Lake Ostrovo. Artillery engagements for the most part are going on along both the British and French sectors of the front.

In France and Belgium there has been violent artillery activity on the Somme and Verdun fronts and around Dixmude. A local German attack on British trenches east of Martinpuich, north of the Somme, was repulsed.

Berlin admits the relinquishment to the allies of trenches west of Ginchy and near Combles, which had been previously demolished by the entente artillery.

The infantry fighting between the Italians and Austrians on the Carso highlands has noticeably diminished altho the artillery on both sides continues active. A report attributed to reliable diplomatic sources in Athens is to the effect that the Austrians are preparing to evacuate Triest.

OVERPOWER POLICE

Several Motormen and Conductors Who Had Not Joined the Strike Are Beaten

MAKE NUMEROUS ARRESTS

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—The most serious rioting since the transit strike in this city began two weeks ago, occurred tonight in various sections of Manhattan when attempts were made to run cars on cross town surface lines. Mobs of strikers and their sympathizers stormed two car barns overpowering the police and putting to flight all railway employees in the vicinity.

Several motormen and conductors who had not joined the strike were beaten. Much property damage had been done before the police reserves arrived. The police assert that the strikers took advantage of the fact that many policemen were detailed to polling booths today's primary to polling booths in today's primary street and Broadway, one of the busiest spots in the city a great crowd bombarded a car with stones they had gathered from a subway excavation.

The police reported late tonight that all surface cars had been ordered to the barns for the rest of the night. Numerous arrests were made and many of the rioters were clubbed by the police. Several passengers were hurt by missiles. Later the strikers attacked the elevated trains, with bottles and bricks from house tops. After a citizens' committee had failed to effect a basis of settlement between the striking union carmen and their employers, it was announced tonight that apparently the only hope of averting a threatened sympathetic walkout of 700,000 workers, set for Friday, now lies in a final appeal to be made to the labor leaders Thursday.

Election Costs.

A study of the election returns in Morgan county gives some interesting facts. There were but four women's ballots cast but in order to comply with the law it was necessary to make just as complete preparations as if thousands of votes were to be placed in the ballot boxes. The same thing was true of the Socialist ticket with eight votes cast. And while all election expense figures are not yet available it is safe to say that each one of the votes mentioned cost the taxpayers from $50 to $75. But it is not the expense of ballots for women or for any party to which the public has special objection, but rather to the unnecessary number of elections and certainly the law should be so changed by the next general assembly that the number can be greatly reduced and thus a great saving of both time and money effected.

Recreation's Important Place.

National interest is being taken in the recreation congress, which will be held at Grand Rapids from Oct. 2 to 6. One of the speakers will be Thomas Mott Osborne, the millionaire warden of Sing Sing prison, who will tell what recreation work has done for many men previously accounted as desperate criminals. Other leaders of wide reputation will be present and the purpose of the congress is to stimulate and guide all the college, school, park, city and town forces throughout the United States into unified and effective action for the development of vigor and efficiency among all the boys, girls, men and women of the country.

Some years ago the importance of recreation in reform work and in civic betterment efforts generally was not recognized but the experiments made and the records kept have shown that importance. The ideas of the public have changed greatly along this line within a decade, just as advances have been made in thought on various public questions.

Practical Plan in Education

The plan adopted in the Spokane public schools of distributing milk for the consumption of school pupils proved so beneficial that milk will be dispensed at fifteen additional schools this year, according to the statement of the health supervisor. The records show that in the schools where the milk had been distributed the past year that there was a noticeable improvement in the health of the pupils and the benefits were also evident in the classroom work done. Parents who are able, pay for the milk consumed by the children and where the parents are unable to bear the expense it is taken from the school fund.

This milk distribution plan touches an important educational condition. A visitor to the average public school who is at all familiar with physical conditions of childhood can tell after brief inspection that many of the children are insufficiently nourished. Growing children require even more food than adults and in many a home it is quite a serious problem to furnish all the needed food and raiment. The nutrition question is closely identified with education because a child not sufficiently matured cannot develop mentally as rapidly or as well as a child in more fit physical condition. The Spokane experiment is a practical bit of educational work colored by real altruistic spirit.

State Republican Platform

Strong Declaration of Principles.
The platform adopted by the state republican convention at Peoria yesterday is one of the shortest on record. That fact does not prevent it from being one of the most forceful and complete. The platform is without the useless verbiage which so marred many platform documents in the past. It is terse and direct and will leave no doubt in the minds of the people that the Republican party of Illinois is progressive in the best sense and favors legislation for the common good.

The Democratic administration is assailed but not in abstract terms. Instead the extravagance of the administration is given in figures. Governor Dunne in making his campaign for election charged that a two year appropriation of $29,000,000 under Republican control was extortionate and yet during his term of office the appropriations for four years have been $37,000,000 greater than for the preceding four years. This, as the platform points out, has meant an increase in taxation for state purposes of $9,063,141 per year. The Republican party of Illinois stands for a revision of the revenue laws, consummating conflicting statutes and thus bringing about economy and efficiency.

For a revision of the election laws to provide for fewer elections and to reduce the expense.

For a public utilities act which will give Chicago control of the utilities there.

For the state supervision of private banks.

For the extension of complete rights of suffrage to women.

These are only a few of the points in the platform which are plainly stated and certainly furnish a splendid ground work upon which the party can make its appeal to the voters of Illinois for a return to power in November.

ANTI-TUBERCULOSIS LEAGUE

DIRECTORS HELD SESSION

Reports From Open Air School Show Improvement of Pupils Health—Transfers to be Made to Ward Schools.

The monthly meeting of the Morgan County Anti-Tuberculosis league was held at the medical library room Tuesday evening with almost a complete attendance. Reports from the various committee chairmen showed all departments of the league work in prosperous condition. Dr. H. C. Woltman, the free clinic director, presented an especially interesting report with reference to the open air school children. During the past week about forty have been given thorough physical examination and tuberculosis tests and the results have been carefully compared with the records of the children for the past two years. These records are kept on file in the office of the free clinic.

Unusual physical and mental development was disclosed in the majority of cases and it was found that quite a large number of former pupils of the open air school are now in fit physical and mental condition to attend the regular ward schools. After they become pupils at the ward schools they will be given careful examination each month by Dr. Woltman and the league nurse, Miss Coale, and if there is any sign of a recurrence of ill health they will be immediately transferred to the open air school. The places made vacant in the open air school are to be at once taken by others who are in need of the fresh air treatment. Miss Coale reported a number of new cases of tuberculosis found in the community, all of which are receiving proper attention.

During the past month Miss Coale has been visiting the several villages in the county in the interests of this league work and the campaign for the County Glacklin Fund. The directors plan to begin an active educational campaign for the fund about the first of October and have already done considerable preliminary work.

It is probable that the league will have an exhibit at the Fall Festival in Central Park and that Miss Coale will be in charge to interest the visitors in the work of the league.

The Open Air school committee was authorized to confer with the school board relative to the details of carrying on the school for the present term. The committee consists of Mrs. David Reed, chairman, Rev. M. L. Pontius, Dr. Josephine Milligan and Miss Florence Ward.

DEFINES "SUCCESS" IN ADDRESS TO YOUNG MEN'S STUDY CLUB

Thomas L. C. Henderson of Chicago, Field Organizer for the Sheldon School, Speaks to Class at Y. M. C. A. Building Tuesday evening.

A profitable address on success and its attainment was delivered Tuesday evening by Thomas L. C. Henderson, field organizer for the Sheldon school, at the first regular meeting of the Jacksonville Sheldon club, held in the social rooms at the Y. M. C. A. Mr. Henderson is Scotch by nativity and has at his command a fund of humorous anecdote. He is a man of ripe experience and extensive travel and his auditors felt exceedingly well repaid.

The club was recently reorganized and in addition to the organizer, H. J. Robinson, numbers more than twenty members.

"Success is the attainment and preservation of a definite and practicable ideal," said Mr. Henderson. "It is within the reach of every man provided he will pay the price. It comes as the result of hard work, as the lives of our most successful men demonstrate, and every man is just as lazy as he dare be."

"This is the age of unusual opportunity and unusual responsibility and man is absolutely limitless in what he can accomplish. 'He can who thinks he can' and no one can circumscribe any man's possibilities save the man himself."

HAWKEYE STATE TOURISTS

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Williamson and Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Glorance, all of Burlington, Iowa and Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Williamson and two children of Kansas City, all passed through the city yesterday in a seven passenger Overland car enroute for the east. They meant to take in a bit of the state fair and then proceed toward the rising sun possibly as far as the Atlantic coast.

MATHEWS FARM FURNISHES

HOME FOR FINE SWINE

Big Herd of Pure Bred Poland Chinas There—Farm Specially Equipped for this Branch of Stock Business.

On the farm of M. O. Mathews just one mile south of Concord there have possibly been more hogs raised in the last fourteen years than on any other farm of the same size in the county. Mr. Mathews has specialized in raising hogs and on his farm of 180 acres it has been no uncommon thing to sell off 450 to 500 head a year.

At the present time Mr. Mathews and Bert Way, a well known hog expert, are operating in a partnership and while the number of hogs is not so great as in some former years, they are breeders of thoroughbreds and hold a sale once or twice a year. Mr. Way this week has eight or ten head of fine Poland China gilts at the state fair and it was reported yesterday that he had been awarded a blue ribbon in every class in which he exhibited. Mr. Way has a certificate as a judge of hogs, this having been secured on examination, and his record according to the state live stock breeders' association was the best made. For this reason he has been a conspicuous figure in state fair exhibits and others throughout the state for several years past. The Mathews & Way herd now includes 200 hogs of all sizes, that is, including the late arrivals of small pigs.

Good Weight on Spring Pigs

For the coming sale 55 head of specially selected animals will be offered. That breeding and care with hogs brings results is indicated by the fact that a number of the animals to be sold now weigh more than 250 lbs. although they were farrowed in the latter part of February. This weight does not apply to all, as they vary according to the time of farrowing down to a weight of 150 lbs. After some years of investigation Mr. Way decided that the Poland China hogs were the best for all purposes and he has specialized along these lines. Mr. Mathews, while operating along somewhat different lines, is also a believer in the Poland China breed.

The herd is headed by three sires of such breeding that they are known to hog raisers in several states. They are John B. Hadley, Grant's Wonder and Futurity Max. These animals are from two to three years old and weigh from six to eight hundred lbs. and have many fine points. Every hog on the farm has been vaccinated by the double treatment and are in a notably healthy condition. Mr. Mathews, like Mr. Way, is a firm believer in vaccination and prefers to have the vaccination done when the pigs are about ten weeks old. At this time the expense is the least and the results the best. The last vaccination was done by Mr. Way himself and it is recorded that not a single animal was "off feed" for a day and not one died.

Vaccination Cheap Insurance

Mr. Mathews said yesterday that he believed vaccination furnished the cheapest possible insurance and that it should be figured in as part of the operating costs by the farmer who goes into the hog raising business. With passing years Mr. Mathews has made large expenditures on his farm buildings and lots, getting them into shape for the easiest and best way of handling hogs. The hog houses are ample in size and so arranged that plenty of sunlight reaches them. There is a large amount of concrete feeding floor and a stretch of roadway reaching from the barn to the hog houses and feed shed. A windmill raises the water for the troughs and in addition a tank holding nearly 100 barrels of water is kept in reserve, so that even if there is no wind and the pump is not working, that a supply of good water is available. Mr. Mathews and Mr. Way believe in the use of tankage and they keep tankage in a self-feeder constantly before the hogs that are being fattened. This in their belief furnishes a balanced ration and the hogs will not eat more than is healthful.

The Feeding Plan

The hogs now on the place all look sleek and healthy and their breeding is evident to anyone at all familiar with hogs. They have been fed, of course, plenty of corn and in addition to the tankage have had a slop made from mill feed. This feed includes bran, shorts and ship stuff. Mr. Mathews has never fed oats to his hogs and knows nothing about that as a feed, although he has heard of other stockmen who have used oats to good advantage. The hogs have plenty of pasture room as at least eighty acres out of the 180 is devoted to the lots and pasturage. Mr. Mathews believes that a hog needs a warm dry place especially at night, so that there is plenty of protection for all the animals on the place and they are not compelled to sleep in the open as happens on so many farms.

Cholera No Bar to Success

Asked if he had ever had the cholera and what he had done for it, Mr. Mathews' reply was, "Certainly I have had the cholera on the farm; in fact, a number of times. But that never discourages me and following an attack of cholera I raised a still larger number of hogs. I have never found a remedy that accomplished much when cholera had occurred in a malignant form. If any of the hogs were not sick and were of such size that they could be sold, that was what I did, and if they were too small or too sick I gave them some of the simple remedies and used lime and other means for disinfecting purposes. But now I firmly believe in vaccination and that if the double treatment system is followed consistently that there will be little or no trouble with the cholera. Of course, it is possible to secure infected serum or to have some accident which will result in the loss of hogs, even after vaccination. Years ago I used to feed cattle but with varying results. Later I devoted all my attention to hog raising and found it uniformly much more profitable. I never have tried shipping to Chicago or St. Louis markets, finding it simpler to sell any hogs I had for sale to a shipper."

ZEPHYR FLOUR

Every good retailer tries to lower food costs.

That's why our store urges the economy of eating more bread. Home-made bread baked from ZEPHYR FLOUR is the most nutritious of all foods.

In ZEPHYR FLOUR you buy only hearty concentrated food. Meat is 60% water. Potatoes contain 75% water. You pay for this water when you buy either. ZEPHYR FLOUR has only 13 1-2% water. It is all food.

Take our advice. Eat more bread. But be sure it is ZEPHYR FLOUR bread for there is no flavor so palatable, so suggestive of grandmother's cooking as that twangy sweetness which distinguishes ZEPHYR FLOUR made good things.

The 1916 class at Jacksonville high school is remarkable for the large per cent of young people who will continue their studies and will enter college this fall. The entering class this year at Illinois college will continue their studies and will J. H. S. in the history of both schools. The Illinois Woman's college has enrolled a considerable number and several members of the class will attend college elsewhere. Members of the class who will attend the Illinois Woman's college are Misses Nellie Priest, Florence Madden, Pearl Allison, Isabel Woodman, Boulah McMurphy, Zella Benson, Mary LaRue, Esther Davis, Alene Dugger, Grace Theobald and Grace Van Houten.

Miss Elsie Reed will attend the Illinois state normal at Bloomington. Frank Hughes expects to enter Washington university at St. Louis, and Reon Marshall is taking courses in the Jacksonville Business college. ARCADIA

F. B. Henderson won out in the primary for Circuit clerk last Wednesday by a large majority. We only hope he will do as well in November.

Miss Ruth Deatherage returned home Sunday after a week's visit with her cousin, Mrs. Branch Wade of Chapin.

Quite a number from here have been attending the state fair the past few days and all report a good fair.

A. G. Linnad filled his silo last week.

P. B. Henderson and family spent Sunday with W. J. Houston and family.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Neill, Mr. and Mrs. Levi Deatherage and daughters Ellen and Ruth spent Sunday with E. L. Rexroat and family.

Mrs. Mary Rudisill and daughter, Cora, Mrs. C. E. Clark and daughter Marjorie and Mrs. R. R. Rudisill and son Dale spent Friday with F. H. Rudisill and family of Virginia who are making preparations to leave for Kansas soon.

Paper hanging and painting inside for outside work guaranteed. Call C. L. Rudisill, Arcadia.

We often see some careless driving on the Jacksonville-Beardstown road thru here but last Sunday morning a couple came thru here in a large roadster that capped them all. They were either trying to imitate Barney Oldfield or had something wrong with their head for just east of here on the turn they were going at such a terrific rate of speed that they hit D. G. Henderson's hedge fence on the south side of the road and for about 10 feet they took it out by the roots, breaking their wind shield and scratching the car up some. The only mistake they made was in not leaving their name so if we heard of any one wanting some hedge grubbed out or stumps pulled we could let them know.

REVIVAL AT UNION

Meetings at Union Baptist Church near Pisgah, are progressing favorably, with the Rev. F. M. Crabtree, pastor of the church, in charge. The series began Sunday and will continue two or three weeks. Sunday, September 24, there will take place the annual basket dinner of Union church.

Edward Tomlinson and Dawson Darley, accompanied by Misses Dorothy Rogerson and Miss Catherine Carter, drove to Springfield yesterday in the Tomlinson Ford car to attend the state fair.

Following are the studies offered this semester:

1. Grammar school subjects: Arithmetic, geography and history, English, composition, spelling and writing.

2. High school subjects: Regular English, composition, spelling and writing, Algebra, geometry, World history Civics and economics.

J. H. S. TO MEET WAVERLY FRIDAY IN THE FIRST FOOTBALL GAME

Prof. Truman P. Carter has completed the 1916 football schedule and Jacksonville people will have good opportunity to see some good football this year. Coach Hufford's men are already showing excellent form and at the practice last night at Duncan park many good points were shown by some of the new men on the team.

The Jacksonville team will meet Waverly High school Friday on Illinois college field and the fact that Waverly recently defeated Medora by the score of 53 to 0, makes it appear that W. T. H. S. is much stronger than the average among the smaller high school teams and that the J. H. S. team may have a hard fight before them.

HORSE SHOW WILL BE NOTABLE FEATURE OF FESTIVAL

Excellent Prizes Offered Make Certain the Competition Will be Active—Other Festival Features Announced.

As a result of several horse men and some Jacksonville business men getting their heads together, an ideal place for the Horse Show, of Festival week, has been discovered. By stretching a wire fence around the first three rows of trees, on the north side of the square, and by covering the cement walk with dirt a show ring can be made that will be second to none.

The livery barns have ample accommodations for a large number of horses and are all conveniently near the show ring. The square will be closed to traffic during the hours of the show in order that colts and horses will not be frightened.

The following entry list is the tentative program for the two days. The list of special prizes for the gets of any horse is not complete. In addition to the cash prizes, handsome first, second and third ribbons will be given in all classes.

This will be held in a tent in which there will be rest room accommodations, space for a few exhibits, and an auditorium for the programs. These programs are being arranged and will be of particular interest to the ladies.

Announcement will be made in a few days, regarding the free attractions. Harold Johnson, Manager of the Grand Opera House, and Secretary H. Jay Rodgers went to St. Louis a few days ago in search of some really new and sensational free acts.

our very probable new industry The Eli Bridge company, will be here in charge of Mr. Lee A. Sullivan, Secretary of the company, and Mr. I. V. Page. They will also have a fine jumping horse Carousal, and two of the patented ticket booths recently gotten out by the Eli company.

Concessions

No concessions will be sold to outsiders that will compete with local dealers. No paddle wheel concessions will be sold.

U. C. T. Country Store

The U. C. T.'s are to run an old fashioned country store.

They plan to operate on a much larger scale than they did two years ago at their Carnival, and lots of fun can be expected around this establishment.

The purpose of Festival Week is to center the interest of the community in Jacksonville. The entire program for the week is to be held in Central Park and on the surrounding streets.

The farmers as well as the business men are taking a lively interest in the plans and a big week is in store for the people of the community.

"BETTER BE SAFE THAN BE SORRY," IS ROAD'S MOTTO

Southern Pacific Gives Well Worded Warning to Auto Drivers

All thru the west the following slogan to auto drivers has been posted on trees and poles. It was issued by the Southern Pacific Railway Co.

"TO MOTOR VEHICLE DRIVERS: 'Please Read This Appeal—It May Save Your Life.'"

"Every year brings an increase in motor vehicle accidents at railroad grade crossings. Grade crossings are unavoidable. They are one of the inconveniences of progress, to be eliminated just as rapidly as practicable. The railroads are doing their best but, it takes time and a great deal of money.

"No matter what safeguards we throw about our grade crossings, our labor is in vain WITHOUT YOUR HELP. All signs, bells, whistles, gates and flagmen are helpless before an automobile driver's recklessness.

"For the purpose of observing the care exercised by drivers of motor vehicles this Company placed men at a large number of crossings on this line. THEIR OBSERVATIONS WERE STARTLING! Of 33,500 drivers FIFTY-THREE PER CENT looked neither way before crossing railroad tracks. EIGHT PER CENT looked one way only, and but 174 drivers, or FIFTY-TWO HUNDREDTHS OF ONE PER CENT actually stopped their machines before crossing.

"From these actual observations it is apparent that men of undoubted intelligence choose to risk life and limb rather than wait a few minutes to let a train pass.

"Because you once took a chance at a grade crossing and ran your automobile in front of an approaching train, do not trust to luck that you can do it again.

"Trains must run on tracks and on time. Their operators have no choice of routes. But the automobilist can choose his route and regulate his rate of speed.

"If drivers of motor vehicles would always associate the sight of a grade crossing with the instant application of their motor brakes, accidents to automobilists at grade crossings would soon be scarce. May we urge that you let the sight of a grade crossing sign instantly convey to you the warning to slow down or stop? It is a habit as easily acquired as your obedience to the traffic policeman's upraised hand.

"On the formation of this habit your life and those of your loved ones may some day depend.

Yours truly,

"SOUTHERN PACIFIC COMPANY."

Detroit, Sept. 19.—Boston won from Detroit today 3 to 1, in the first game of the series which is expected to go far toward deciding the American League championship. LIBERAL EXPORT BUYING BRINGS BULGE IN WHEAT

Prices Close Unsettled at ¼ to ½ Cents Net Higher—Corn Rallies With Wheat.

Chicago, Sept. 19.—Liberal export buying brought about a bulge in the wheat today notwithstanding that at first the bears seemed to have nearly complete control. Prices closed unsettled ¼ to ½c net higher, with December at $1.49½ to 1.50 and May at $1.50½. Corn finished ½c off to ¾c up; oats with a gain of ½c and provisions varying from twenty cents decline to a rise of 60c.

Export sales of wheat today amounted altogether to 1,250,000 bushels of which one half at least was said to have been grown in the United States. The European visible supply total showed a falling off of 4,720,000 bushels.

STATE REPUBLICANS
ADOPT PLATFORM

and the expenditure of the public funds are vital and important. To check inefficiency and extravagance, and to create a more energetic and responsible government, we favor:

1. The adoption of the constitutional amendment submitted by the last general assembly providing for the classification of personal property for the purpose of taxation;
2. The enactment of such legislation as will make the constitutional amendment effective should it be adopted;
3. A complete revision of the revenue laws consolidating the various independent conflicting statutes into one act;
4. The creation of a financial and accounting system, whereby a vigorous and effective audit and account over financial expenditures may be established;
5. The consolidation of the boards, institutions and different departments thereby eliminating useless and unnecessary offices and positions, avoiding overlapping functions and increasing efficiency;
6. The creation of an effective executive budget system.

We favor the reorganization of the state government along the line of the general principles laid down in the report of the economy and efficiency commission.

Revision of Election Laws

We favor a revision and consolidation of the primary and election laws, thereby reducing the number and frequency of elections and curtailing the expense and cost thereof. We likewise favor the enactment of a corrupt practice act and a law enabling those citizens to register and vote whose occupation necessitates their absence from home on registration and election days.

Constitutional Convention

We favor prompt action by the general assembly to secure the calling of a constitutional convention to revise the constitution of 1870.

Public Utilities

We favor the law creating the state public utilities commission for the purpose of authorizing and supervising all bond and stock issues of public utility corporations and general regulation of public utilities. We also favor local control of such utilities for the city of Chicago and favor legislation to that end.

Add State Republicans—GALLE 2

Agriculture

Great as is Illinois industrially, the agricultural and live stock interests of the state are our largest resources. We favor gathering up the scattered and unrelated agencies of the state government pertaining to agriculture, and substituting in their place a department of agriculture with a competent and trained man at its head.

Labor

The republican party has always been solicitous of the health, comfort and safety of those engaged in industrial occupations. The true test of a country's greatness is the lot in life of the average men and women—the men and women of the shop, of the factory and of the farm. These are they who carry on the work of civilization, and a nation is strong in proportion to their well-being. Whatever permanently improves their lot in life is the best for all and best for the state. Illinois must not lag behind other great industrial states in legislation to secure the health and well-being of men and women employees in industry or to secure the schooling and training of children.

We favor a further limitation of the legal hours of labor for women. We favor the extension of the workmen's compensation act to all industrial as distinct from agricultural workers as far as may be practicable.

"We favor additional legislation to secure for all citizens protection in the enjoyment of all their rights, both civil and political."

Civil Service

The principle of civil service is firmly established. The present state law is inadequate. It should be strengthened and extended. We favor a comprehensive civil service law for Cook county, for the sanitary district of Chicago and for the municipal court of Chicago.

Private Banks

We favor state supervision of private banks.

Woman Suffrage

We favor the extension of full suffrage to women.

Charitable Institutions

The highest efficiency possible will be promoted and maintained in our charitable institutions. Those institutions will be restored to the high plane of efficiency and merit established by former republican administrations.

Nominations Endorsed

We endorse and ratify the nominations of the republican party made at the primaries on September 13, 1916.

Appeal to the People

To bring to an end the wastefulness, extravagance and inefficiency which have characterized the present democratic administration; to give to the people of Illinois an efficient administration, and to restore the efficiency and economy of republican administrations, we call upon the voters of Illinois to rally to the support of the republican candidates, so that this great task, of such vital interest to the people, may be accomplished.

SINCE OUR SUCCESSFUL FALL OPENING FRIDAY MANY PHOTOCOPIES HAVE BEEN RECEIVED OF LADIES' READY TO WEAR GARMENTS AND MILLINERY.

Filling Silos

The work of filling silos in Morgan county has been in progress for ten days past but has not been completed. F. W. Jewsbury, Philip Cleary and William Willard, all of the vicinity of Markham, have men engaged in silo filling. George Dieterich of the Concord neighborhood is another farmer who has similar work in progress. It has been found very advantageous to handle silo filling by the community effort as a number of teams and a considerable force of men are required to do the work promptly. Almost every farmer who has used a silo for feeding purposes is enthusiastic about the results and many of them believe that by this method the feeding value of the corn is doubled.

Avoid Hessian Fly Damage by Observing Some Rules

"Plow wheat stubble as early as possible to prevent the growth of volunteer wheat or to destroy such growth," advises J. R. Malloch, assistant state entomologist of Illinois. "It is in these volunteer plants that the flies live after leaving the stubble and by plowing these down and the stubble early all the flies will be destroyed and thus cannot infest the plants sown on that or other land. Sow as late as possible—in the south not before October 10—and adopt a variety that will tiller freely so that in the event of the fly making an attack upon the plants, other shoots will be sent out to replace those injured or killed. Also choose a variety which has a long straw, so that it may resist the attack of the fly by standing up even when injured."

"It is also essential that improved methods of cultivation be generally adopted, as fertilization of crops results in a stronger growth, which itself is a guarantee against severe damage by most insects, and is certainly one of the most reliable means of evading loss by the Hessian fly."

"Wherever possible, rotation of crops should be practiced and where the methods advised as above are followed there will be little danger of Hessian fly damage unless the seasons are especially favorable to the fly attack."

"Do not sow wheat in September south of the middle of Illinois. Do not allow wheat field to run to volunteer wheat. Do not merely disk your fields just at seeding time—plow them at least three weeks before seeding. Do not use a wheat that has few tillers and a weak straw."

Some Profitable Hogs

Last March M. F. Dunlap bought 203 shoats weighing about 85 pounds each at eight cents and put them in with the cattle which he was feeding broken corn. The hogs had no other feed and a few days since A. O. Harris bought the lot averaging 251 pounds at 11 1/2 cents. The hogs were good stock though no special breed was exclusively used.

Mr. Harris bought of other parties 219 at $9.50 to $10.50.

Shipped His Cattle

A. O. Harris shipped forty cattle of his own feeding. They averaged 1389 and brought $9.90. He bought 36 head of butcher stock of various parties at from $5.50 to $7.50 and shipped them also and came out very well.

James Walker's 111 Cattle Brought $19,180—Fed Cattle 50 Years.

James Walker, the old time feeder of 50 odd years sold 111 cattle on the Chicago market, September 6th as follows: Five car loads at $11.50 per hundred; two car loads at $11.30. They brought the net sum of $19,180. One steer in the bunch weighed 2,000 pounds and brought $230.

This is one of the best sales Mr. Walker has ever made in his long period of feeding. These cattle were fed on full feed of corn for 10 months, which made the expense very heavy. He sold about 600 hogs within this period of feeding. The shrinkage on these cattle was very light—39 pounds from home weights. If the shrinkage had been 2 per cent the cattle would have weighed as much at the yards as at home. Five cars were sold by O. S. Green, of the firm of Walter Bros. two cars sold by J. P. Bowles of Bowles Live Stock Com. Co.

Mr. Walker is now 83 years of age and says that he probably will not feed cattle this winter.—Carlinville Democrat.

INDIANS NOW CLAIM LANDS IN CAROLINA.

Ninety Nine Year Leases Soon to Expire—Tribes Will Seek Settlement.

Washington, Sept. 19.—A most curious land case developed here a few days ago, when it was learned that an Indian tribe was trying to obtain the return of 164,000 acres of choice South Carolina land which it leased to that state ninety-nine years ago.

Lorenzo Medlin, an attorney of Rockingham, N. C., near the state line, has been here for several days investigating the records in the government land office in regard to the Indian claims. The treaty made with these Indians rests as a cloud on the title of the land, according to his story, and there is absolutely no record of any sort of treaty or agreement between these Indians and the federal government.

"When the white men first came to South Carolina," declared Mr. Medlin, "they found the tribe of Catawba Indians in possession of the land which included the present county of Catawba and extended to the North Carolina line."

"About a hundred years ago," Mr. Medlin says, "these Catawba Indians leased to the state of Carolina a tract of land of 164,000 acres for an annual rental. The lease was for a period of ninety-nine years, and the Indians retained only enough land for a reservation. The state of South Carolina made subleases of the land to individuals, who took up the tracts provided by the state and developed the land into rich farms."

The situation now is that the lease is nearly up, and the Indians either want the land back, or a complete settlement made by the state for it.

SUIT FOR DIVORCE FILED

Mrs. Clara H. Smith, by her attorney, J. P. Lippincott, has filed suit for divorce from her husband, Luther Smith. The marriage occurred in 1903 and Mrs. Smith declares that her husband has been absent for more than two years and has contributed nothing to her support or that of their two sons. Divorce is asked on the ground of desertion. It is also set forth in the bill that the defendant dissipated at least $10,000 which the complainant received from her father's estate.
